Wausau Fire Department Summer News

Nothing beats grilling in the summer. Brats, burgers, and hot dogs are a great Wisconsin tradition. Unfortunately, the fire department sees an increase of fires related to cooking outdoors during this time.

Most residential grill fires start on a court, terrace, or patio. Lawns and other nearby open areas account for many grill fires as well, but we are especially concerned about the grill fires that start on exterior balconies or open porches or decks. Besides causing damage to the building, grilling on decks and balconies can be hazardous to people and pets. It is also a violation of fire code. Other than one-and two-family dwellings, no hibachi, grill, or other similar devices used for cooking or heating are allowed on decks (within ten feet of the structure) or balconies.

The leading cause of fires is the result of some mechanical failure, such as a part failure, leak, break and lack of maintenance. Other leading causes of fires for outdoor grill fires include "operational deficiency" (such as leaving the grill unattended), misuse of the material ignited (allowing combustible material to get too close), and misuse of fire (poor control of the open fire and abandoned materials).

Safety Tips (courtesy of NFPA.org)

- Propane and charcoal grills should only be used outdoors
- The grill should be placed well away from the home, deck railings and out from under eaves and overhanging branches
- Keep your grill clean by removing grease or fat buildup from the grill and in trays below the grill
- Never leave your grill unattended
- Always make sure your gas grill lid is open before lighting it
- When lighting charcoal grills, use only charcoal starter fluid and never add the fluid to the fire
